Welcome Home to a Better Real Estate Experience

I have been in real estate since 2006. Creating an energetic and positive customer experience is what I enjoy. I am licensed in both Kansas and Missouri and I specialize in assisting an array of buyers and sellers. As a Kansas City native, I am very familiar with the metro area and I am knowledgeable of the surrounding communities. I am enthusiastic about diversity and I have experience in working with all personality types.

I take every aspect of this business seriously and I realize a great deal of success relies on the advertising and marketing of homes. So, whether it's utilizing the latest selling techniques, online marketing tools or setting up social media sites – I am technologically advanced and I work diligently to help my clients become successful. The professional relationships I develop with my clients and helping others achieve their goals is what keeps me in real estate.

Professional

Prior to real estate, I worked as a facility manager for a law firm while attending school. At this time in my career I obtained the most of my interpersonal communication skills. I also learned the value of time management and the dedication it takes to do my job well.

My position at Keller Williams Realty provided me an opportunity to excel in internet marketing and become technologically savvy. I instructed agents on new website platforms and I taught social media classes. Throughout my career at Prudential I have found that my best interest rests with first time home buyers and newly constructed homes.

Education

I graduated from UMKC with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics.

Affiliations

All of the certifications, designations, and volunteer hours I have acquired are essential for me to market myself as a resourceful agent. Each course and organization I chose to work with was designed to give me the preparation and knowledge I need to manage the challenges in real estate. Recognizing and appropriately addressing diversity while offering every client an optimum level of service is what I enjoy most about being an agent.
