Alex Goering Named Broker of Better Homes and Gardens® Real Estate Kansas City Homes' Blue Valley Office

Goering Assumes the Title After Previous Broker, Darrel Stiles, Retires

(January 11th, 2021) (Overland Park, KS) Kansas City Homes' agent and Assistant Broker Alex Goering has been named Managing Broker of the Blue Valley office. The news comes as previous owner and broker, Darrel Stiles, retired from the position.

This change is part of the office's succession plan. Stiles selected Goering as his replacement, and the two worked together to ensure a smooth transition that took effect when Stiles officially retired on December 31st, 2020.

President and CEO of Kansas City Homes, Christian Barnes, was incredibly proud to name Goering Managing Broker, citing her multiple years of working with him.

"Alex is a dynamic professional in every sense of the word. I have enjoyed working alongside him as a fellow agent and leader. I am proud to see him reach this new height and continue to make his mark in the company and within the industry."

Goering began his career in 2014 with the Blue Valley office and becoming Broker was especially important to him.

"I learned about leadership and training from some of the best-in-the-business as an agent while at the Blue Valley office. I am honored to serve my colleagues as the Managing Broker now. I look forward to building on the success my predecessor, Darrel Stiles, achieved. He was a true mentor, and I will be forever grateful for his friendship, leadership, and faith in me."

Goering, already a decorated and successful agent and former team lead for the Goering Group, is ready for the new role. In 2017 he was awarded Salesperson of the Year from the Kansas City Regional Association of REALTORS®, and in 2019 Kansas Association of REALTORS® awarded him REALTOR® Salesperson of the Year. He followed that up with being named to the 2019 REALTOR® Magazine's "30 Under 30" list, which celebrates 30 of the country's brightest rising stars in real estate.

Goering began serving as Managing Broker on January 1st, 2021.
